ROCKY GAP & WILLIS KNOB HORSE TRAILS

The Rocky Gap Trail in South Carolina and the Willis Knob Trail in Georgia combine to offer 27.5 miles of the most scenic horseback riding and hiking in the Southern Blue Ridge Mountains. Winding across deeply dissected ridges, the trails descend into the beautiful Chattooga Wild and Scenic River drainage. The 12.5 mile Rocky Gap Trail has several loops, while the Willis Gap Trail is designed as one large 15 mile continuous loop. Each trail crosses several gravel roads, allowing you to plan trips from one half mile to the full 27.5 miles.

Two fords, Adline Branch and Phillips Bend, permit crossing the Chattooga River from one state to the other. These replace the crossings at Earl's Ford and Sandy Ford that are now closed to horse use.

Important: Riders need to be aware that high water levels make for dangerous crossings at Adline Branch and Phillips Bend. Both are negotiable for experienced riders at normal water levels, but Adline Branch is shallower and is the preferred crossing. Stay posted on weather forecasts so you will not be trapped on the opposite side of the river from your vehicle if heavy rains should occur.

FACILITIES

Georgia: Groups wishing to camp in Georgia can stay at the Willis Knob Horse Camp located off Goldmine Road. This camp provides two loops--the forward loop offers one double unit site and three single unit sites; and the back loop has one double unit site and one single unit site. Either or both loops may be reserved. There are toilet facilities (handicapped accessible), group campfire areas, twenty stalls, and a springfed watering trough. Each campsite has a cooking grill, picnic table, and lantern post.

South Carolina: Many riders begin their trip at Whetstone Road Base Camp, located just south of Whetstone Road. This area offers five sites available on a first come basis and 14 sites available for group reservation. The camp has drinking water, cooking grills, hitching rails, toilet facilities (handicapped accessible), tables, and lantern posts. A day use parking area is located across the road from the camp.

DIRECTIONS

Georgia: From Clayton, go east on Warwoman Road for 11.6 miles. Turn right on Goldmine Road (gravel road) and look for signs indicating Woodall Ridge Day Use Parking Area on the left.

South Carolina: From Walhalla, go north on S.C. 28 for 7 miles. Turn left on Whetstone Road. Go through the 4-way stop. At pavement end, continue on gravel road approximately 3/4 mile until you reach sign of Whetstone Base Camp on the left. Day use parking lot is on the right.
